DIRKS SPOKE AT WORSHIP CHAPEL

road to genuine leadership of service," said Dean H. Dirks in DePauw worship Wednesday. "The great men world have followed Christ's teachings and have gone through triumph."

Dirks called attention to the virtues of Lincoln, whose life the whole world celebrates today. "He was truly meek and truly inherited the earth," he outlined Lincoln's poverty, struggle for an education, service to his country, and forgiving spirit.

The world still seeks a shorter road to greatness," Dean Dirks concluded, "but a minority still strives in order things that are wanting through ministering achieves greatness."

them "God Be in My Head" by the

MANY BEASTS DIE IN FIRE AT ROCHESTER

SWEPT THROUGH WINTER QUARTERS OF COLE BROS.
AND ROBBINS CIRCUS

WILL NOT CHANGE PLANS

All The Hay-Eating Animals Were Led To Safety By Circus Workers And Volunteers

ROCHESTER, Ind., Feb. 21—(UP)—Fire—the jungle beast's worst enemy—raced through the hay-filled winter quarters of the Cole Bros. and Robbins Circus last night and about 150 lions, tigers, leopards, monkeys and antelopes were roasted alive in their locked cages.

One elephant, valued at approximately $2,000, also was destroyed in the blaze.

Approximately 350 horses, elephants, camels and ponies—turned loose by circus employees when the flames burst through the huge brick building—retreated madly from the blaze and stampeded into the center of the city, a half-mile distant.

As the free animals raced tramping and screaming into the city, citizens of this northern Indiana community remained calm and even aided circus roustabouts and police in rounding up the beasts. All but twenty horses and two elephants were corralled within an hour after the fire was discovered.

The hay-eating animals—about 300 horses, including beasts trained for equestrian performances; a dozen camels, eleven elephants and a score of mules and ponies—were turned loose by circus hands immediately after the blaze was discovered.

As for the caged animals, employees had no alternative but to keep them locked up and let them roast.
All of them perished.

The toll of beasts included six lions, two tigers, two black leopards, two zebras, approximately 150 monkeys and antelopes, a llama, a sacred cow and an elephant. A small pony

Attempt To Rob Bainbridge Office

FRUSTRATED WHEN POSTMAS-TER CLARENCE STEWARD
WALKED INTO OFFICE

An attempt to rob another Putnam county postoffice was frustrated at Bainbridge Tuesday night when Postmaster Clarence Steward walked into the office two hours after he had closed it for the night.

Mr. Steward evidently broke up an attempt to force the safe which, apparently, would have resulted in the robbing of the safe if the intruder had not been interrupted.

Mr. Steward found the combination knob had been knocked off but the remaining operations necessary to open the door had not been completed and there was no loss.

The effort to rob the Bainbridge postoffice safe was identical with that at Cloverdale, earlier this month. In the south Putnam robbery, however, the effort resulted in the theft of cash and stamps, along with some $3,500 in government baby bonds which were useless to the thief.

The sheriff's office at Greencastle was called.

MRS. BURBANK GIVES FINAL LESSON WED.

WOMEN FROM PUTNAM COUN-TY HAVE SHOWN INTEREST IN THREE LECTURES

MODEL KITCHENS SHOWN

The Daily Banner Wishes To Thank
Miss Schott and High School Girls For Cooperation

Women from Putnam county have shown their interest in better foods, better methods of preparation, budgets, and home management in their enthusiasm displayed at The Daily Banner's cooking school which opened Monday afternoon and continued through Wednesday afternoon at the Granada theater with Mrs. Gertrude Burbank lecturing on matters of importance to the average housewife.

Mrs. Lafayette Levan Porter introduced Mrs. Burbank on the opening day, Mrs. Frank Donner on Tuesday, and Mrs. Thad Jones on Wednesday afternoon.

Refrigerators, and electric and gas stoves were on display throughout the three days as well as work tables, kitchen cabinets and breakfast tables. Music was supplied prior to the lectures by a new radio which supplied interest to the meeting.

On Tuesday Mrs. Burbank explained the cooking of meats and also prepared a salad, cakes, pie, and frosted vegetables. Wednesday she prepared a chicken and ham as well as a pie and vegetables.

The Daily Banner wishes to thank Miss Mary Lou Schott and the members of the high school home economics classes who helped during the three days of the school.

Ask Completion Of Black-Top Work

DESIRE SANCTION OF THE HIGHWAY COMMISSION; CON-TACT JOE WYSONG

Putnam county commissioners and county road superintendent have put before Joe Wysong, who is the contact man between the Indiana State Highway Commission and county road men over the state, the desire of the Putnam county men to have the sanction of the highway commission for the immediate completion of the black-top work on the remaining three miles of the Russellville-Morton road, and the remaining four miles of the Russellville-Fincastle road.

The first of these two Russell township roads is marked "1" on the Putnam county road program by the state commission, but the second one named—that between Russellville and Fincastle—is marked "4" by the commission, No. 2 being northeast of Cloverdale and No. 3, on the map, being the Airport road southeast from Greencastle, but the commissioners ask they be permitted to complete the Russellville-Fincastle road along with the road between Morton and Russellville, so that the equipment furnished by the county in these WPA jobs will not have to be removed from Russell township to another project and then moved back.

These are WPA projects but it is explained by Charlie Hendrich, county road supervisor, that the sanction of the state road commission is necessary before work can be inaugurated on them by the WPA forces.

Forum Of Farmers Was Held Tuesday

FLOYD HEMMER WAS SPEAK-ER; DR. JAMES LED THE DISCUSSION

The first of a series of six forums of farmers of Putnam county was held Tuesday evening in the assembly room of the Greencastle High School, with an audience of forty-three deeply interested persons—who are not all farmers, by the way.
There were business and professional men among the agriculturists.

These forums are in the hands of a committee of farm men of the county, whose members plan the programs and who seek to make the meetings of deep interest to farmers. This committee is composed of Raymond Wright, Clayton Cash, J.
M. Abbott, Ivan Ruark, Ralph Call, Elvin Harlan and H. C. Perkins.

At the opening meeting of the series, Tuesday evening, Floyd J.
Hemmer, former member of the Indiana State Legislature and now superintendent of the Indiana State Penal Farm at Putnamville, delivered an exceedingly interesting and valuable address on "Getting Ahead in Agriculture." He spoke in part from his own experiences as a farmer "back home," and partly from his experiences at the head of the state's big farm in Putnam county. He emphasized the necessity of closer cooperation among farmers and spoke his approval of the farm forum plan.

Roscoe Turner Guest Of Rotary

FAMOUS AVIATOR TOLD LOCAL CLUB MANY INTERESTING
FLYING STORIES

In a visit to Greencastle at lunch time, Col. Roscoe Turner, nationally known aviator and speed pilot, talked to the local Rotarians after their regular weekly luncheon served at the Presbyterian church.

This week is Rotary's 35th Observance Week and the Rotarians were honored by this visit from the famous aviator who has broken several records and is widely known.

Col. Turner held the Rotarians and their many guests, who were specially invited for the occasion, spellbound by his many stories.

In his stories Col. Turner told of his early days in aviation and of the dare-devil feats that marked the first days of struggling to make a living. "Today," he said, "aviation is a serious business and crazy people and dare-devils are fast being eliminated from the service."

Col. Turner also told of his first trans-continental flight which he made at the speed of 127 miles per hour and of his flight, ten years later, when he made the same trip, with four stops, in ten hours flying at 250 miles per hour. He predicted flights in another ten years of 375 miles per hour and better for trans-continental service.

Col. Turner was accompanied by the superintendent of the Indianapolis Municipal airport, Mr. Dienhart.
Both Col. Turner and Mr. Dienhart emphasized the need of an airport and urged the city of Greencastle to get their airport in shape for future use.

20 Years Ago IN GREENCASTLE

George Rice of Cloverdale township was in Greencastle on business, the newspaper said.

Ernest Browning bought the Jesse Weik property on east Washington street.

Mrs. Cassel Tucker left for an extended visit with relatives in Boston.
James L. Hamilton was leader of the orchestra at the Christian church Sunday school.

PTA COUNCIL OBSERVES 43RD ANNIVERSARY

ORGANIZATION ENJOYED JOINT MEETING TUESDAY EVENING AT SECOND WARD

MRS. BAIRD ALLEN PRESIDENT

Prof. Boston Gave Talk Honoring Founders, Fine Program
Given

Founders Day of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers was celebrated Tuesday evening at the Second Ward Building, with a joint meeting of all the Parent-Teacher Organizations in Greencastle. The meeting is sponsored each year by the Greencastle P. T. A. Council.
Mrs. Baird Allen, president of the council for 1939-40 presided. There was about 150 in attendance.

Dr. Edward R. Bartlett led the devotions which were in keeping with the spirit of the play which was presented later in the meeting.

The newly organized Mothers Singers under the direction of Mrs. J. E.
Porter delightfully entertained with three numbers. This group is composed of mothers from each of the Parent-Teachers Organizations in the city, and is sponsored by the P. T. A.
Council. They were accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Taylor.

Paul F. Boston, superintendent of schools, gave a short talk honoring the founders of the organization while Mrs. Glenn Giddings, president of the Third Ward P. T. A., lighted 43 candles on a large birthday cake, the organization having been founded on Feb. 17th, 1897.

The Drama Group from the College Forum of the Gobin Memorial church presented, in a very commendable manner, the peace play entitled "In Heaven and Earth." This play was directed by Miss Rosa Neil Reynolds.

OIL WELL MEN ARE LEAVING PUTNAM CO.

"We are pulling the pipe today and tonight will have the hole plugged," said H. C. Nothing, field superintendent for the Stanolind company in the drilling of their test well in western Putnam, today.

Mr. Nothing asked The Daily Banner to express the appreciation of himself and other men who have been here in connection with the work at the well, for the cordial relations which he and the others working for the company have had with all persons of the county with whom they have had contact in their work, and socially. He said he is sorry he has to leave, but that he is going back to his "old stamping grounds," meaning thereby the state of Kansas, and will start west tomorrow morning.

He likes Kansas because there is under that state no hard Trenton rock to hinder the production of oil from wells he has "bossed" in the past and others which he may drill in the future. He likes the state, he said, "even with its grasshoppers, dry winds, dust and everything."

Blizzard Sweeps Through Finland

THREATENED TO IMMOBILIZE TRANSPORT ON ALL
FRONTS

HELSINKI, Finland, Feb. 21—(UP)—A blinding blizzard, "Finland's winter ally," swept all Finland during the night and threatened to day to immobilize transport on all fronts including the embattled Mannerheim line.

Such a storm had been expected at the end of the recent wave of extreme cold. Finns had hoped and prayed for it and last night it came.
Reports from all over the country said heavy snows, swept by terrific winds, were prevalent and promised to last for days if not weeks.

All air activity had been halted already, reports said.
If this proved to be the normal winter blizzard, Finns said, it should stop operations not only on the north and central fronts but in the isthmus, bogging all transport under heavy snow.

Then, the Finns said, there should be the thaw, which also would help them to hold off the Russian attacks.

Reports of the blizzard came as a Finnish army spokesman denied Russian claims to the capture of Kol-visto, anchor for the Finnish right wing in the Mannerheim defense line.

RAYMOND RILEY WINS SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Greencastle having opened the first store on the south side of the square.
Prior to his employment with the Kroger firm he was manager of the grocery department of the Sudraski General Store.

This year there are five men in the Indianapolis branch who will receive fifteen year recognition pins from the Kroger firm. There is one man who has 30 years of service and one

GUS FRAZIER GIVEN 50 YEAR I. O. O. F. PIN

GREAT FALLS RESIDENT THIRD MEMBER OF LOCAL LODGE TO BE HONORED

MEETING HELD TUESDAY

Large Crowd Turned Out For Presentation and Giving Of 3rd Degree To R. J. Shannon

Gus Frazier of Great Falls, Montana, was honored by Putnam Lodge No. 45 Independent Order of Odd Fellows at the regular meeting Tuesday evening, when he was presented with a 50 year pin, showing he had been a member of the lodge for that long period of time.

Mr. Frazier joined Putnam Lodge in his early youth and has continued his membership throughout the years, although a great many of them have been spent away from Greencastle.

Charles Meikel, another 50 year member of Putnam Lodge, made the presentation address. He recalled many men who were members of the lodge at the time Mr. Frazier joined, none of whom now survive.

There are only three 50 year members of the local lodge. They are Charles Vancleave, the oldest member, Mr. Meikel and Mr. Frazier.

Russell J. Shannon was given the third I. O. O. F. degree Tuesday evening and is the newest member of the lodge. There was a large crowd present for the meeting and several speakers of olden times, after which refreshments were served.

Mr. Vancleave was unable to be present Tuesday evening because of illness, but he wrote a letter which was read at the meeting, in which he expressed his regrets at being unable to attend and also recalled some interesting incidents in connection with the occasion.

The lodge answered his letter which was signed by the other two 50 year members, Mr. Meikel and Mr. Frazier as well as officials.

Farmers Attending Township Institutes

SEN ALBERT FERRIS AND MRS.
ESSIE FULLER ARE PRIN-CIPAL SPEAKERS

At the farmers' institutes being held in five Putnam county townships, this week, State Senator Albert Ferris of Milton and Mrs. Essie Fuller of Farmersburg are the principal speakers. The institute for Monroe and adjoining townships was held at Bainbridge, Monday; at Reelsville, Tuesday; at Belle Union, Wednesday, and those at Cloverdale and Fillmore are to be held Thursday and Friday, respectively.

There have been prizes offered for excellence in a number of classes of farm and farm home products, at the institutes, and the competition in a number of these has been keen.
The attendance has been excellent, and deep interest has been shown by the farmers, and other farm folks.

In her talk on Time Saving Tips, at Bainbridge, Mrs. Fuller said:
"For most modern women life holds too full a program, we are all greedy for achievement and tackle too many things."

"I believe every mother should decide which is the most important, house keeping or home-making. In my opinion, house-keeping drives the family out, home-making draws the family in."
"Learn every time-saving tip you can, not in order to accomplish more tasks, but for the primary reason of having more time to spend with the family, and more time for community activities."

GAIN CLAIMED IN COMMUNIQUE RUSSIA ISSUED

REPORT CAPTURE OF TOWN AND FORTRESS OF KOJISTO PLANES DOWNED

FINNS DENY TRUTH OF CLAIM

Swedish Government Announced And Warned That It Would Not Allow Passage of Foreign Troops

MOSCOW, Feb. 21.—(UP)—An army communiqué said today that Russian troops had captured the town and fortress of Kojisto (Kol-visto), cleared Finnish troops from the peninsula adjacent to it and captured "large trophies."

Russian planes, it was asserted, had shot down 47 Finnish planes.

(Kolvisto Island, off the west coast of the Karelian isthmus, has served as the anchor of the Finnish Mannerheim line on the right flank since the start of the war. It is heavily fortified and it had resisted attacks by Russian airplanes and naval and long range land guns for many weeks.
Its loss to the the Finns would be serious. The Russian communiqué to the occupation of the "town and fortress of Kolvisto (Bjorko)." Kol-visto Island is sometimes called Bjorko, the name of another island immediately south of it, and the group is known as the Bjorko group. The Finns denied that Kol-visto had been taken.)

The Russian communiqué, issued through the official news agency Tass, was:

"Headquarters Leningrad area:
"February 20 Soviet troops continued developing their offensive in the Karelian Isthmus. (They) occupied the town and fortress of Koj-visto (Bjorko), cleared of the enemy Kojvisto (Bjorko) Peninsula and captured large trophies.

"In other sectors there was nothing of importance.

"Soviet aviation successfully raided enemy troops and military objectives. Forty-seven airplanes were brought down in air combats."

Articles in the Soviet press said that the successful Soviet offensive in Finland had checked Anglo-French plans to make Finland a war base against the Soviet Union and that therefore the British were exerting pressure on Sweden and Norway to abandon their neutrality. In the same articles it was denied that Russia had ambitions in the north Atlantic.

fyng the rescue was held to show that Britain had no conception of Norway's view.

"We realize the situation," said the newspaper Morgenbladet: "one great power resembles another when its relations to small states are concerned."

Foreign minister Halvdan Koht, in a further statement on the incident, said last night that Norway had acted as she did without pressure from either Germany or the Allies. He said that the Altmark was to be considered a warship and that it was entitled to pass through Norwegian waters without examination.

British textbooks might be cited, he said, in defense of the right of belligerents to transport prisoners through neutral waters without liability to internment unless their ships touched land.

CIRCUS FIRE

was killed by an auto.

Anguished screams of the dying animals could be heard above the screech of fire sirens.

"For a time it looked terrible," one bystander attracted by the fire sirens and the screams of the dying animals said. "Then as the freed elephants, camels and horses seemed more scared than we, it wasn't so bad."

All the hay-eating beasts were led to safety by the circus workers and, once away from the flames and apparently in no danger of dashing back into the blazing building, were turned loose.

"They just wandered down the road," Zack Terrell, co-owner of the Hoosier Circus Corporation which owns both shows, said. "They didn't know what to do."

The circus quarters are located approximately a half-mile from the center of the city on the northern limits.

Ford Johnson, on the switchboard at the fire department when the blaze was reported, said that the citizenry was quiet throughout the fire.

"A lot of people called in," he said, "but when they found out what it was they calmed down. The animals were loose only for about an hour."

Terrell said that the fire would not disrupt circus plans for the coming Summer.

"We're going to put out a show," he said. "We've already contacted John North at Peru, Ind., and we're considering a move down there. All we need is the cooperation of our brother showmen."

North is president of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus the only other railroad circus show outside of the Rochester organization which operated last Summer.

Terrell said that the present Cole Bros. plan to open April 29 had not been changed by the blaze. He indicated that wild beasts to replace those burned up would be purchased immediately from United States dealers, or if that proves impossible an attempt would be made to replace them in Europe and on other continents.

One of the destroyed beasts, the llama, cannot be replaced unless purchased in Europe or the United States as a ban has been declared on their sale in South America.

Terrell valued the destroyed caged beasts at about $20,000, and the total loss at between $150,000 and $200,000. He said, however, that most of the circus wagons, railroad cars and tractors were saved, although some newly painted wagons and tractors were destroyed.

Long Machine Is Threatened By Vote

JONES LOST METROPOLITAN NEW ORLEANS JUST AS LONG DID

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21—(UP)—Sam Houston Jones, a lawyer making his first state-wide political campaign, maintained a lead in the race for the Louisiana governorship today, threatening to wreck the scandal-ridden machine founded 12 years ago by the assassinated Huey P. Long.

Just as Huey Long had done in his early, victorious campaigns, Jones lost the Metropolitan New Orleans vote but was piling up an apparently commanding lead in the country. He had promised to "rid the state of political crooks from top to bottom; $13 automobile licenses; $30 monthly old age pensions, free hot lunches, library books and school supplies for school children; home-stead exemptions free of political favoritism, and unhampered local government. In some respects his appeal had been to the same class of "poor country folks" that put Huey Long into office over the opposition of the New Orleans ring politicians of the late 1920's and kept him in power while he made Louisiana a dictatorship. Much of Jones support came from cotton farmers of the Red Hills; shrimp fishermen of the Terrebonne and the French-speaking Acadians of South Louisiana.

Unite In "Stop Dewey" Movement

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(UP)—Sens. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R. Mich., and Robert A. Taft, R. O., both candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination, have united in a "stop Dewey" movement in the Wisconsin primary, April 2, reliable Congressional sources said today.

Vandenberg and Taft, it was said, seek to prevent Thomas E. Dewey, 37-year-old New York District Attorney, from getting off to a victorious start in Wisconsin where one of the first major primaries will be held.

Vandenberg and Dewey have entered the Wisconsin Republican primary. Taft has announced that he will not enter.

The Congressional sources revealed the Taft-Vandenberg combine against Dewey said Taft realized he could not expect support of the progressive faction in Wisconsin, and stood aside because believed Vandenberg had a better chance of winning the primary.

Vandenberg undoubtedly will have the support of Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Prog. Wis., and other Wisconsin leaders, and should he win, Dewey's campaign would suffer a severe and early setback.

Previews and Reviews AT LOCAL THEATERS

Voncastle

The sort of family which lives on "Maple Avenue" in any small town in the United States, owns its home or is struggling to do so, is headed by a tolerant husband and father and a very wise and sweet wife and mother who are the proud parents of four or five children is brought to the screen in the new Paramount drama, "Our Neighbors—the Carters," which will have its first local showing on Wednesday and Thursday at the Voncastle Theatre.

The Carters are a typical American family, and Fay Bainter and Frank Craven are well cast as the heads of the family. Miss Bainter is seen as "Ma" Carter, mother of five lovely children. Frank Craven plays her tolerant and understanding husband, a man who owns a small business—he's the local druggist, affectionately known to all as "old Doc." Among their oldest friends are Edmund Lowe and Genevieve Tobin, cast as a couple who have gone to live in the big city and found success there. The Carter children are played

CARDINAL PECKS AT HIS OWN REFLECTION

The quaint performance that was staged by a male cardinal late last summer who wore himself out pecking at a window at a home in the west part of town is now going on again at the same home, the same window and apparently by the same red-coated bird. He began ten days or so ago, and has been on the stage in his act every day since then, and is still going strong.

He begins with the coming of daylight and continues incessantly through the day until dusk. He usually has in his beak a seed of dried berry, and, if the theory advanced as to the reason for his erratic conduct is correct, he is bringing the food to be an offering of love to the lady bird he seems to think he sees in his own reflection in the glass.

The theory advanced to explain his conduct—and it came from one who knows something about birds—is that he has lost his mate and is courting his own reflection, in an effort to replace that mate.

SPRINGFIELD, O.—Evolutionary college greeting as seen by Prof. R. H. Miller, instructor in Greek at Wittenberg college. In 1885, students "always" their hats to the professor. In 1905, "the usual greeting" "how do you do?" Today? It's "hi."

how much PER POUND?

The model illustrated is the Buick Special model 41 four-door touring sedan $996 delivered at Flint, Mich. White sidewall tires additional.*

AUTOMOBILE engineers talk a lot about car weight—and with good reason.

They know that riding qualities begin with enough road weight to hold you steady on your course—they know that weight is often another measure of size—above all, they know that weight means substance, strength, durability.

So it's interesting to note that this trim Buick SPECIAL gives you more weight per dollar than almost any other car you can buy.

With all its husky straight-eight power—power that's like velvet because engines are balanced after assembly—with all its room, and style, and comfort—this Buick still has one of the lowest costs-per-pound of any car on the market.

And nowhere else will you find valve-in-head power, all-coil springing, torque-tube steadiness and Buick's plussage in accessories at the figures that apply to the SPECIAL.

So if a little extra money is keeping you out of a Buick, take another look at those dollars.

They buy more car to begin with. More size and more substance.

They buy some six dozen new 1940 features, including many an "extra."

And you'll get most of them back in longer life and higher trade-in value—not to mention your fun and solid satisfaction!

*Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.
